

EpiPoint®

Stabilizing orthosis for the treatment of tennis elbow.

viscoelastic inserts

warning strap

Indications

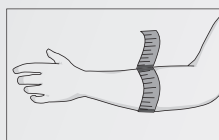

- Epicondylitis humeri, e.g. tennis elbow
- Medial epicondylitis, e.g. golfer's elbow

Features

- Elastic band allows dynamic pressure adjustment.
- The red warning section on the adjustable band indicates whether the support has been fitted too tightly.
- One universal size.
- Since the pad can be rotated, EpiPoint® can be worn on the right or left forearm.

Benefits

- The viscoelastic pad exerts highly targeted compression over the muscles to provide relief at the muscle insertion point.
- Easy to fit and apply thanks to color coded strap that turns red if too much pressure is applied.
